

CodingForums.com > :: Client side development > JavaScript programming > escape button

PDA

View Full Version : escape button

n00bie

04-05-2007, 10:18 AM

Press escape

Ok first of all I want to say I have no experience with java. But some people have told me what is want was possible with java. I want this when I am on my site and I press for example escape I want the page to change to an other site. Lets say I'm on www.url.com and I pres escape I want the page to refresh in www.newurl.com is this possible and if yes how? Are there standard scripts that I can use. Or can someone help me by making a scrip like that.

Thank you in advance.

Philip M

04-05-2007, 06:47 PM

Please note that Java and JavaScript are completely different languages, in spite of the confusingly similar names.

The keycode for the escape key is 27 decimal, 1B hex.

```
<body onkeypress="var k=event.keyCode||event.charCode||event.which;if(k==27)
{window.location=http://www.newurl.com}">
```

Please do not thank people in advance. It is rude, as it takes the assistance offered for granted, and amounts to belching before you have had the meal.

vBulletin® v3.8.2, Copyright ©2000-2009, Jelsoft Enterprises Ltd.